White's Spectrum XLT LCD display failure. I just bought this XLT with a bad LCD display for $100 on an eBay auction. Since I have years of electronic repair experience I was hoping the problem was created by either connections or corrosion. Alas, it appears that it needs a new LCD module. I did some research before I bid on this, and from this ...

I have had my White's XLT for about a month. At first I was a little worried about all the programs and settings. I have not learned them all, but I have found the more I just calm down and read the manual and other literature, the easier the machine is to work. With a little practice the pointing is right on.
